

WINTER CLOTHING at SUMMER PRICES.

The unusual open winter has compelled us to make an enormous cut in the price of our goods, as we are determined to carry none over. So after making a partial inventory of our stock we find that we have four hundred and twenty All Wool Overcoats, worth $7 to $10, that we will begin to-day to sell, and continue until the last one is gone, at forty-two Silk and Satin-Lined Chinchilla and Fur Beaver Overcoats, worth from $18 to $22, at $14. We have large lots of Overcoats to close at $2, 3, 5 and upward, worth fully double that amount. Our SUITS we will sell at same proportion. We mean business, and our stock must go. So come early and choose while we have a good selection.

ABERDEEN CLIPPINGS.

T. F. Hill was in Cincinnati this week purchasing his holiday stock.

Mrs. S. P. Campbell and daughter returned Thursday from a short visit to relatives at Flemingsburg.

Hon. Jesse Ellis is summoned as a juror in the U. S. Court at Cincinnati, which convenes December 18th.

B. C. Farley is a candidate for re-election as Constable. Bayless has made a good official, and should be re-elected by a rousing majority.

After a fall, while reclining on the ground, it is pleasant to have some extremely smart fellow ask why you are in such a hurry to rent a flat.

S. M. Hudson arrived Tuesday with a barge of coal, after a three weeks' trip. Mr. Hudson is the most enterprising coal merchant Aberdeen ever had.

Part of the bridge over Fish-Gut Creek, back of town, has arrived, and the prospects are admirable for its being finished some time or other—in fact, p. d. q.

P. A. Stewart left Wednesday for California. Park is one of the best-hearted young men on this footstool, and has many friends who wish him success in all enterprises.

There is a nuisance in this classic city which should be abated. The parties connected are mighty bold in their proceedings, and it may have some effect to show them up now. Mind, we have our weather optic on you.

Turnips, the butcher, has the finest home-made mince meat your masticators ever come in contact with, and all kinds of fresh meats at reduced rates until after the holidays.

Rev. George Fulton lost a pastor's visiting book containing the names of the members of his charge. The finder will please return it to him and receive reward. "Pastor's Visiting Book" in gilt letters was engraved on the back.

We have a letter in our possession dropped by a young man in this town addressed to a young lady in the country—that is we presume it was dropped. Anyway, we might select a few sentences that would be readable. Wait a wee and diuna weary.

Hypocricy, the worst kind, when a man joins church, makes a great parade of his sanctity and then visits places that would make a stone image blush with shame to be caught in. A kind hint should always be heeded for fear harsh measures will be used.

Many a ragged jacket hides a noble heart. Just so, and just as sure that there are lots of meanness perpetrated in fashionable life by people in good positions in society and who wear good clothes; but murder will out, and we know—wait and maybe something will drop.

The O'Regan vs. Frame suit of possession, tried before Squire Beasley Monday, owing to a hung jury was set for re-trial Thursday, but was compromised Wednesday, Frame paying costs. Whitaker and Ellis were attorneys for O'Regan; Law and McKnight for Frame.

Squire Beasley, and who don't know the Squire, is one of the most charitable of men, a gentleman of the old school, courteous to all and well acquainted with the ways of the office he occupies, that of Justice of the Peace. And we predict a re-election for him next spring by a handsome majority.

It was a merry gathering at the residence of H. L. Cooper, one of our prominent farmers, on Tuesday night, the 8th inst., the occasion being his thirty-fifth birthday, which was celebrated in royal style by the thirty-five couples present. The tables were loaded with good things to refresh the inner man. After disposing of a fine supper the younger folks danced until near morning, wishing all the while that Hans' birthday would come offener.

Hair, tooth, nail and clothes brushes, combs, odor cases, perfumery in large variety, perfumery cases, whisk broom-holders, jewel boxes, work boxes, pocket books, mirrors, shaving sets, lamp newest styles. The largest line of fine box paper ever brought to this town. Photograph albums, autograph albums, scrap books and holiday goods in abundance. An invitation is extended to all. No trouble to show goods. S. P. Campbell & Co., the druggist, Market street, Aberdeen, O.

Our High School, under Professor Lawwill, is still onward and upward. Messrs. Hill and Perry at the School Board visited the school recently and were pleased. Much interest is manifested in J. E. Bradford's lessons in penmanship. Generally speaking, all the scholars were industrious the past week. Joseph Cheesman was a visitor in the high department Tuesday. Nannie Simons, Lillie Riggs, Anna Claxton and Nellie Midgall are noted for good conduct. Lillie Shaw and Minna Reddie carry off the laurels this week for the most orderly conduct. Ira Batts, George Turnipseed, Willie Ennis, Jesse Howell, Edwin Lord, Mary Reddie and Lizzie Rothenbush are hard workers in the school room. All in all, the school is making satisfactory progress. Below are the names spelled discretely this week, furnished by Minna Reddie: Cephalic, ostracize, Evangelize, franco, sachel, saque, sachet, suicide, censure, hydrophobia, prayer, audience, chapel, misle, tantalize, zephyr, wrestle, miniature, employe, subsidence, areuile, diphtheria, distich, nucet, granary, joist, odeon, tuberos, tableaux, typograph, burglarize, illusion, saunter, lisle-glove, charcoal, canicraons, myrtles, vertical, reptiles, cassava.

IN MEMORIAM.

Another of Aberdeen's respected citizens called away—Mrs. Margaret Hartman, wife of Joseph Hartman. Her maiden name was Margaret Cope, and she was born September 18, 1824, in Hilltown, Bucks County, Pa. She was married to Joseph Hartman, 1847. After a lingering illness of some months, during which she was confined to her bed two weeks, and during which she bore her sufferings with christian fortitude, her spirit passed away on the 27th of November, 1887, as serenely as an infant's. She reached the venerable age of sixty-three years, two months and three days. Being endowed with many lovable characteristics, she was loved and esteemed by all who were thoroughly acquainted with her retired home life. She was kindly disposed to all, and the very embodiment of unselfishness. The love she bore for those who were very near and dear to her was exemplified by her many acts of love and kindness bestowed with a beautiful hand, springing from a heart full of genuine love for those who mourned the departure of the soul of that brave mother and wife, as it floated out on that black November night, to begin that journey "whence and whither no man knoweth since the world began." She leaves a husband, an only son, Mr. Matt Hartmann, and five grandchildren, who were very dear to her, and an only sister to survive her.

He hath given her rest—it is yours to weep; There lay her to rest for a few brief years, Thou wilt behold in joy what was buried in tears.
